Everybody is Talking About the St. Louis Republic.

And indeed there is something to talk about. Where there's smoke there's fire. Things are happening at The Republic. Its new editor, Horatio W. Seymour, has his own ideas about making a newspaper. And Republic readers seem to think they are pretty good ideas, too. They are tickled with the crisp, spicy little paragraphs of editorial comment which appear each day; they are delighted with the good, sound, militant Democracy—old-fashioned, Jeffersonian Democracy—and the merciless exposure of Republican fallacies and misrule; they are laughing over the caricatures and funmaking cartoons; they are interested in the stories of strange, novel things that happen in every-day life and recognize the superior manner in which the news in general is given; they are pleased with the news in general is given; they are pleased with the new dress The Republic is wearing—clearer type and more open lines.

The enlarged size of The Republic, its enlarged staff of writers, its enlarged facilities for obtaining and printing the news and the liveliest and best editorial page in the Mississippi Valley are making The St. Louis Republic the most talked of, the most interesting and the cheapest newspaper, value considered, to be had by the residents of Missouri and contiguous territory.

OPENING UP FRENCH ALPS HYPNOTISM RESTORED VOICE

Touring Club Plans New Automobile Route From Lake Geneva to the Sea.

Americans who take their motor cars to France—a few of them, at least—have explored the beauties of the French Alps between Lake Geneva and the Riviera. But to the ordinary tourist this is an almost closed region. Only a few points within it can be reached by railroad, and the roads have not been of the best.

The Touring club of France ten years ago tried to have better roads opened through this interesting region, but its appeals met with official indifference.

Now, however, the railroads have seen the possibilities, and there has this summer been inaugurated a service of automobiles, combined with what railways there are, from Nice to Evian on Lake Geneva.

The Touring club is planning, with the aid of the now interested officials to secure improved roads that will make easy automobile riding the entire distance, avoiding the railroads entirely. When completed this route will be close to the Italian frontier almost the whole journey.

It will make accessible some of the quaintest of rock villages, and will range in climate from the almost tropical vegetation of the Riviera to the barren, snow-clad slopes of the mountain passes.

HE IS THE CHAMPION PARENT

There Are Thirty-two Children Who Call John W. Guy of Virginia "Dad."

John W. Guy, father of 32 children, lies dangerously ill at his home in Nelfa, Va.

Mr. Guy is seventy-nine years old and a prosperous farmer. He was born April 6, 1832. Despite his years he was robust until about a month ago, with glossy black hair, and worked on his farm nearly every day. He has been thrice married.

Guy first married Mary Ann Redfield in 1885 and she bore him seven children. His second marriage was an elopement.

Lola Crockett, sixteen years old, became Guy's wife when he was in his sixty-fifth year. Of this union seven children were born. A boy and girl, twins, arrived when Guy was seventy-six.

Of Guy's 32 children—21 sons and 11 daughters—23 are still living, the eldest, a son, being fifty-six years old. All of his sons are fathers of large families.

"I have always lived a Christian life," Guy says. "I have been a member of the Onancock Methodist church for over fifty years. I have had three wives. I can truthfully say that not one quarrelsome word has passed between myself and either of them."

UMBRELLA IN ENGLAND.

The umbrella is gaining ground in England. It has long been the popular impression in this country that all Englishmen carry umbrellas whether it is raining or not, but it is only of late that the smart, slender, tightly rolled umbrella has been driving out the cane. During the last summer there was a marked revival of sticks, but with the advent of the autumn rains they are going back to the rack, and the place of the umbrella is as secure as before. In this country except perhaps in circles where London styles are faithfully followed, there seems to be a slight falling off, if anything, in the use of umbrellas, for which motor-ing and the popularity of waterproof coats have been held responsible.

WHEN PRICES WERE LOW.

Old records brought to light in Linn county, Kan., give some interesting figures of many years ago. Cows were quoted in 1837 at $7 to $10; horses, $25 to $40; hogs, a head, $1.25 to $1.50; a nice veal calf sold for 75 cents; eggs, 3 cents a dozen, and deer hams, 25 cents each. One could get a man to work from sunup, till dark from 10 to 15 cents a day, and he accepted pay in pelts, hides, twists of tobacco, wild honey or yarn mits.

MISTAKE, SOMEHOW.

"Well, well," exclaimed Nagget, over his paper, "that's a queer heading for this article. It says 'Woman's Talk'."

"What's so queer about that?" demanded his wife.

"Why's there's only half a column of it"—Tit-Bits.

Nightmare Had Caused a Man to Lose the Power of Speech for More Than Four Years.

After being dumb for more than four years, David Newell Shuter of 117 Milton street, Long Island City, has had his power of speech restored to him by means of hypnotism.

Dr. Alfred J. Fox of 210 Fifty-sixth street, Manhattan, who effected the cure, declared that Shuter's ailment probably was caused by nervous shock, resulting from nightmare. The doctor examined the man's throat and became convinced that there was no organic disorder, and that it was a case of paralysis due to shock. He decided, therefore, that the case did not require the administering of medicine, but that hypnotism would do more good, and, accordingly, started to treat the case along these lines.

After the first treatment, which was about two months ago, Shuter showed signs of improvement, and has been improving ever since, until now he has practically the same power of speech that he had before he became afflicted. As far as tones and inflections are concerned, the case is cured, but there still remains the necessity of strengthening the vocal cords, which have become, so to speak, rusty through nonuse.

TELEPHONE HAD A BAD COLD

And Orders for Two Certified Copies Sounded Over the Wire Like 235.

Slurring of words over the telephone wire came near working clerks overtime in the office of A. B. Harrison, secretary of state of Oklahoma.

The department was called by long distance from Kansas City and requested, as the clerk understood, to "prepare two thirty-five copies" of a certain corporation charter. The office took on signs of business, with orders going to town for several reams of white paper.

Judge Fitzpatrick of the corporation desk stopped long enough to figure that the fees to the state would amount to $700 for copying alone.

"Do you suppose that is on the square?" queried Judge Fitzpatrick, as he looked at his computation of the cost.

"Better confirm it," suggested the secretary of state, so a telegram went to Kansas City asking if the request was for "235 copies."

Orders for the white paper were countermanded two hours later when a boy walked into the secretary's office with a message which read: "Not on your life. We want two certified copies."—New York Herald.

HOW IKE LOST EYE.

William L. Kaiser, a member of the United Commercial Travelers, has acquired a reputation as a story teller. "Bill," is much in demand at banquets, reunions and stag parties. Although the story is worn almost threadbare, "Bill" insists upon repeating the following anecdote at every opportunity:

The farmers, John and Jake, met at a crossroads with loaded teams. They passed to pass the local small talk.

"John," said his friend, "did ye hear o' the accident down at Reed's corners?"

"Nary a word," replied John.

"Well," continued Jake, "ye'll remember Ike Robinson's hotel, the 'Lakeside Traveler's Rest.' A troupe o' 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' people put up at the Corners last week, and Ike gave the leading lady the biggest room in the house, the old parlor on the first floor."

The old man paused meditatively.

"Yes?" queried John.

"An' that's how Ike came to lose his right eye."

"How did it happen?" asked John.

"Through accident?"

"Nope," answered Jake. "Through the keyhole."

PROBLEM IN NATURAL HISTORY.

"Evolution tells us," said the scientist, "that the ear is the modified breathing apparatus of the fish."

"Don't believe it," replied the superficial person. "It's utterly impractical. How could the fish manage to snore without waking himself up?"

PROVES IT.

"The artist I met the other day is a good mixer."

"He must be when he can paint water views in oil."

GOOD LIVER REMEDY FREE

When you suffer from any form of indigestion it is always well to take something for the liver, as usually the trouble lies there. If you are bilious, have a bloated feeling after eating, if you belch, if your skin is yellowish you may be sure it is liver trouble.

What you need is something to stir up the liver, to arouse the gastric juices so that they will aid in the digestion of your food. A very good remedy for this, and one highly recommended by those who have used it, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. But if you have any doubt about its merits, and would prefer to try it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample bottle.

Thousands of people first learned of this remarkable cure for stomach and liver troubles through a free sample. Mrs. Frank Lilly of Plainview, Ill., sent for one and it cured her and she is open in saying that she will never take pills or strong cathartics again, as Syrup Pepsin acts so mildly. Mr. W. L. Bryant, the Postmaster at Sardis, Tenn., says he will never be without it again. No sick person can afford to ignore a remedy so highly endorsed as this. It is good for all the family from infancy to old age, because it is mild, free from gripping and yet promptly effective. Furthermore, results are absolutely guaranteed or money will be refunded.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Miss Virginia White Lockhart left last Wednesday for a sojourn in Clovis, New Mexico. She is taking this trip on the advice of her physician for a change of climate with hope of benefitting her health. Miss Lockhart has been teaching piano in Lexington for eight years, and during that time she has developed the musical talent of a large number of pupils to a remarkable degree of proficiency. It is to be hoped that in a milder climate she will regain her good health and soon return to Lexington and her friends. During her absence her class will be in charge of Miss Mary Wulfe-kammer.

Don't fail to see the pictures at The Princess tonight.

For lack of room to accommodate our patrons we have moved our dining room in the storeroom adjoining us on the east. The room we formerly used as a dining room we have fitted up as a rest-room, which our friends and patrons are invited to make use of when down town. Here will be found comfortable seats, writing material, papers and magazines. Ladies from the country are especially invited to make themselves at home here.

Respectfully,
MRS. L. E. MARK.

Wallace, Karnes, New & Krauthoff
12-16-11.

Two men have been arrested and tried in Olath, Kansas, for robbery. Previous to the holidays several robberies were committed in towns in a radius of forty miles of Kansas City. The last one, at Olath, Kansas, two men were caught, and goods in their possession have been identified by a jeweler in Warrensburg. A. Egle was notified that some jewelry still in their possession had not been identified, and acting upon this information he left Friday accompanied by E. B. Campbell and Eugene Photzing, for Olath to see if the same parties were responsible for his robbery.

You've been "hungry" for something for some time and if you'll avail yourselves of the opportunity to see the goods displayed in Long & Shinn's new counter you will be able to satisfy your cravings at a moderate cost.

SKIN TROUBLES SUCH AS ECZEMA, PIMPLES ON THE FACE AND ITCHING SCALP YIELD TO THIS TREATMENT.

Why should you continue to experiment with greasy lotions and smeary ointments to rid your skin of germ life? They can't do it because they cannot penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life to the surface of the skin and destroy it. Why not try a proven remedy, one that will do this? We have a mild, soothing Liquid Compound that penetrates the inner skin, right to the seat of the trouble, drives the germ life to the surface and destroys it. The first application stops the terrible itching. Your leading druggist stands back of this Scientific Remedy—Brinkley's Sanator—buy it today from Crenshaw & Young.
